

The man on the stage who does the trick of escaping from firmly tied ropes, submits to the bonds with a smile. He knows he can get out of the ropes that are being knotted. Put the same man in the woods and let Indian captors bind him to a tree for torture and he would struggle to the last against the bonds.

When the stomach is diseased there are bonds being woven every hour about the organs dependent on the stomach—heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc. The folly of mankind is to passively submit to the fastening of these bonds with no effort to escape until the pain they cause arouses fear.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, liver, lungs, kidneys and other organs, when these diseases, as is often the case, have their origin in the diseased stomach.

"For a long time I was suffering and was hardly able to get about," writes Mr. Andrew J. Jennings, of Thomas, Tucker Co., W. Va. "I was bothered with kidney trouble and my whole system was out of order; had no appetite. A friend told me to get Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I did so and the first bottle restored my appetite. I took six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and some of the 'Pleasant Pellets' and feel like a new person."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the clogged system from impurities.

COWPEA CULTURE.

Plant Between Corn Rows and After Small Grain is Cut in June.

The place in the rotation usually assigned to cowpeas is that of a partial crop planted between the corn rows at the last or next to the last cultivation, or else that of a second crop on the land where oats, wheat or rye has been harvested. It is not putting the matter too strongly to say that 80 per cent of the acreage of corn in Alabama should have cowpeas between the rows and that at least 80 per cent of the area from which small grain is cut in May and June should be planted in cowpeas.

On sandy upland where the corn rows are five feet apart we prefer to plant the cowpeas in a single drill half way between the lines of corn and to plant at the next to the last cultivation, so that the last cultivation serves also to give the cowpeas a start. On good bottom land, well supplied with moisture, we prefer to sow cowpeas broadcast in corn, and this, of course, can be done only at the time of the last cultivation.

On rich land care should be taken that the sowing of cowpeas, especially of the running varieties, does not take place so early that the corn crop will be overrun by the vines. Avoidance of this trouble lies either in late planting or in the use of the bunch varieties.

In drilling cowpeas between the corn rows we obtain a more uniform start by employing the planter than by dropping the seed by hand in the first or center space furrow and covering with the two sided furrows of the scraper run next to the corn.

We have employed numerous methods of planting cowpeas after small grain. Since work is pressing at this season and the soil sufficiently moist for plowing only for relatively brief periods our usual policy is to plant the seed without waiting to make thorough preparation.

There is room for considerable ingenuity in determining the best method of completing the preparation and giving the first cultivation. One of the most important aims to be kept in view in this is to keep the land nearly level so that the plants may better resist drought and so that a mower may be conveniently used. After the first cultivation, when this serves also as a partial breaking, only the heel scraper or other shallow working implement should be used.

The usual amount of seed is one to one and a half bushels when sown broadcast and about half a bushel per acre when planting in drills far enough apart to permit cultivation.

The grain drill, with all tubes open or with part of them stopped, is sometimes used in planting cowpeas.—J. F. Duggan, Alabama.

The Stand of Corn.
On very rich land well prepared about 8,000 stalks should be left on an acre. This number should be decreased in proportion to the thinness of the land and shallowness of the soil. Thin land should have about 2,000 stalks. When it gets below that, it would be better to let the land rest. But whatever stand you think your soil will bear, it is important to bring it to that stand at once. Letting these useless stalks remain not only lets them steal the food from the others, but increases the damage done to their roots when they are taken away.—Southern Cultivator.

Rape as Swine Pasture.
The value of rape as a pasture for swine is a matter of controversy among farmers who have tried it. Some say that hogs do not like it and will only eat it when especially hungry for green feed. Professor Shaw urges farmers not to give it up; that hogs will become fonder of it as time rolls round; that it is the same with sheep. Those fresh from the ranges do not like rape at first, but gradually overcome this dislike and afterward are very fond of it, says Farm Ranch.

Promising Winter Celery.
American Gardening finds that Winter Queen, which it illustrates, has for two seasons proved to be the best of all winter celeries on its trial grounds. It has been extensively grown among market gardeners in the neighborhood.

WINTER QUEEN CELERY.
all of whom have the same opinion—viz, that it is by far the best winter celery. It makes a strong plant and good heart, is of excellent flavor, surpasses all others in keeping properties and is in great demand in celery districts among marketmen.

Brief Mention.
Only a slight increase in rice acreage is reported for Louisiana, but for Texas a phenomenal increase.

For fall grazing for stock sow cowpeas between the corn rows at the last cultivation in June.

Wheat cut in the full dough state is highly commended for hay by many farmers.

East Texas is forging rapidly into view as an important peach belt.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

The gospel of Jesus Christ only can renovate the world.—Rev. Dr. A. T. Fowler, Baptist, Chicago.

Intellectual Assent Insufficient.
Our intellectual assent to given truths cannot protect.—Rev. Dr. Clappett, Episcopalian, San Francisco.

A Man For Every Cause.
God has a man for every cause. We still hear the voice of God, "Go forward!"—W. R. Griffin, Reformer, Cincinnati.

The Fundamental Element.
True happiness consists in spiritual blessings. It is the fundamental element of Christianity.—Rev. Dr. Charles W. Byrd, Methodist, Atlanta, Ga.

Righteousness the Foundation.
The foundations of all stable prosperity are laid in righteousness. Honest efforts are doing the world's work.—Rev. Dr. Raymond, Schenectady, N.Y.

The Forbidden Fruit.
The very fact that forbidden fruit may open our eyes to new and strange enjoyments has always been a temptation to man.—Rev. V. W. Tevis, Methodist, Indianapolis, Ind.

Standing by Convictions.
A deep seated courage enables a man to live a strong, Christian life every day and stand by his convictions in small as well as great things.—Rev. E. McIntosh, Evangelical, Barbours, O.

Antidote For the Adverser's Poison.
The sure antidote for the poison of the adverser of intoxication must be found for Christians first and last and all the time in the blood of Jesus Christ.—Rev. Dr. Frank De Witt Tammage, Presbyterian, Chicago.

Religion and Patriotism.
In the highest nation religion and patriotism were nearly akin, and so it ought to be with every nation that has the right idea of God and government. It brings a higher standard of civilization.—Rev. Dr. Woods, Baptist, San Francisco.

The Standard of Measurement.
It is right to measure men only by what they do under circumstances. Some grovel amid earthly things, while others turn their thoughts toward the skies. Education enables us to do what others will look upon with delight. Think of education as being what God would have us be.—Professor Faust, Dayton, O.

Keeping Pace With God.
I think I see evidence that points to the fact that we are keeping pace with God. The future is bright with hope. The forces that are most essential to the growth and prosperity of national life are characterized by energy and expansion instead of weakness and decay. A spirit of usefulness prevails.—Rev. Dr. Swift, Methodist, Chicago.

Hope More Than Desire.
Hope is more than desire. Desire may be born of indolence. Hope is the result of calculation, of evidence, of promise. All life finds expression in aspiration. Its progress depends on hope. Where there is no hope there can be no life. The power that gave us life is the power that bids us push upward and on.—Rev. Dr. A. T. Fowler, Baptist, Chicago.

Giving Up All to God.
We are taught to reverently acknowledge our need of God's pardon, love and guidance that we may not only give our silver and gold, but our selves, our all, to him who for us has made a way to heaven. Investments in the evangelization of the world pay the best dividends and are not exposed to the trickery of men.—Rev. Dr. Adams, Methodist, Brooklyn.

Christian Buoyancy.
Hope is Christian buoyancy as well as the means of salvation. It abides when faith has been finally crushed. Its ministry is always gentle and kind. It has brought luster to many an eye dimmed with tears and gladness to hearts that have been crushed and broken. It is possible for one to lose faith in another and yet remain hopeful of his final destiny.—Rev. George Lloyd, Congregationalist, St. Louis.

Man's Dual Obligation.
Every man, whether he will or no, is under inexorable obligation to God and man. The old preachers used to argue that we all owed to God by right of creation, by right of redemption and by right of preservation. One greater than they, St. Paul, declared that "we are not our own, we are bought with a price," and therefore expects us to glorify God in our bodies and in our spirits, which are God's.—Rev. Dr. Alonzo Monk, Methodist, Atlanta, Ga.

Solution of Life's Problem.
It is God's power making man's peace, God's fatherhood making men brothers, God's voice settling all disputes, sweetening all bitterness, reconciling all enemies, and when it shall cover the earth as the waters cover the sea then shall be solved all the social and industrial problems that make the world a military parade ground, for the world is not yet conquered, and there is still work for the conquering gospel.—Rev. Dr. Willey, Methodist, Brooklyn.
